NOTICE OF APPARENT LIABILITY FOR FORFEITURE

Adopted: July 23, 2007

Released: July 23, 2007

By the Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture (“NAL”)<sup>1</sup>, we find that Aras Marketing, Inc. (“Aras”)<sup>2</sup> apparently willfully or repeatedly violated section 227 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (“Act”), and the Commission’s related rules and orders, by delivering at least one unsolicited advertisement to the telephone facsimile machine of at least one consumer.<sup>3</sup> Based on the facts and circumstances surrounding the apparent violation, we find that Aras is apparently liable for a forfeiture in the amount of $4,500.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Section 227(b)(1)(C) of the Act makes it “unlawful for any person within the United States, or any person outside the United States if the recipient is within the United States . . . to use any telephone facsimile machine, computer, or other device to send, to a telephone facsimile machine, an <sup>1</sup> See 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(1). The Commission has the authority under this section of the Act to assess a forfeiture against any person who has “willfully or repeatedly failed to comply with any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the Commission under this Act ....” See also 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(5) (stating that the Commission has the authority under this section of the Act to assess a forfeiture penalty against any person who is not a common carrier so long as such person (A) is first issued a citation of the violation charged; (B) is given a reasonable opportunity for a personal interview with an official of the Commission, at the field office of the Commission nearest to the person’s place of residence; and (C) subsequently engages in conduct of the type described in the citation).

<sup>2</sup> Aras has offices at 530 Buckingham Road, Apartment 314, Richardson, TX 75081. Sara Wang, Director, is listed as the contact person for Aras. Accordingly, all references in this NAL to “Aras” also encompass the foregoing individual and all other principals and officers of this entity, as well as the corporate entity itself.

<sup>3</sup> See 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(C); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(a)(3); see also Rules and Regulations Implementing the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, Report and Order and Third Order on Reconsideration, 21 FCC Rcd 3787 (2006).

unsolicited advertisement.”<sup>4</sup> The term “unsolicited advertisement” is defined in the Act and the Commission’s rules as “any material advertising the commercial availability or quality of any property, goods, or services which is transmitted to any person without that person’s prior express invitation or permission in writing or otherwise.”<sup>5</sup> Under the Commission’s Rules, an “established business relationship”<sup>6</sup> exception permits a party to deliver a message to a consumer if the sender has an established business relationship with the recipient and the sender obtained the number of the facsimile machine through the voluntary communication by the recipient, directly to the sender, within the context of the established business relationship, or through a directory, advertisement, or a site on the Internet to which the recipient voluntarily agreed to make available its facsimile number for public distribution.<sup>7</sup>

3. On October 19, 2006, in response to one or more consumer complaints alleging that Aras had faxed unsolicited advertisements, the Commission staff issued a citation<sup>8</sup> to Aras, pursuant to section 503(b)(5) of the Act.<sup>9</sup> The staff cited Aras for using a telephone facsimile machine, computer, or other device, to send unsolicited advertisements to purchase a business to a telephone facsimile machine, in violation of section 227 of the Act and the Commission’s related rules and orders. The citation, which the staff served by certified mail, return receipt requested, warned Aras that subsequent violations could result in the imposition of monetary forfeitures of up to $11,000 per violation, and included a copy of the consumer complaints that formed the basis of the citation.<sup>10</sup> The citation informed Aras that within 30 days of the date of the citation, it could either request an interview with Commission staff, or could provide a written statement responding to the citation. Aras did not request an interview or otherwise respond to the citation.

4. Despite the citation’s warning that subsequent violations could result in the imposition of monetary forfeitures, we have received an additional consumer complaint indicating that Aras continued to engage in such conduct after receiving the citation.<sup>11</sup> We base our action here specifically on a complaint filed by one consumer establishing that Aras continued to send an unsolicited advertisement to telephone facsimile machines after the date of the citation.<sup>12</sup>

5. Section 503(b) of the Act authorizes the Commission to assess a forfeiture of up to $11,000 for each violation of the Act or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the Commission under

<sup>6</sup> An “established business relationship” is defined as a prior or existing relationship formed by a voluntary two-way communication “with or without an exchange of consideration, on the basis of an inquiry, application, purchase or transaction by the business or residential subscriber regarding products or services offered by such person or entity, which relationship has not been previously terminated by either party.” 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(f)(5).

<sup>9</sup> See 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(5) (authorizing the Commission to issue citations to non-common carriers for violations of the Act or of the Commission’s rules and orders).

the Act by a non-common carrier or other entity not specifically designated in section 503 of the Act.<sup>13</sup> In exercising such authority, we are to take into account “the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation and, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and such other matters as justice may require.”<sup>14</sup>

III. DISCUSSION

A. Violations of the Commission’s Rules Restricting Unsolicited Facsimile Advertisements

6. We find that Aras apparently violated section 227 of the Act and the Commission’s related rules and orders by using a telephone facsimile machine, computer, or other device to send at least one unsolicited advertisement to the consumer identified in the Appendix. This NAL is based on evidence that the consumer received an unsolicited fax advertisement from Aras after the Commission staff’s citation. The facsimile transmission advertises an offer to purchase a business from the existing owner. Further, according to the complaint, the consumer neither had an established business relationship with Aras nor gave Aras permission to send the facsimile transmission.<sup>15</sup> The fax at issue here therefore falls within the definition of an “unsolicited advertisement.”<sup>16</sup> Based on the entire record, including the consumer complaint, we conclude that Aras apparently violated section 227 of the Act and the Commission’s related rules and orders by sending an unsolicited advertisement to one consumer’s facsimile machine.

B. Proposed Forfeiture

7. We find that Aras is apparently liable for a forfeiture in the amount of $4,500. Although the Commission’s Forfeiture Policy Statement does not establish a base forfeiture amount for violating the prohibition against using a telephone facsimile machine to send unsolicited advertisements, the Commission has previously considered $4,500 per unsolicited fax advertisement to be an appropriate base amount.<sup>17</sup> We apply that base amount to each of the apparent violations. Thus, a total forfeiture of $4,500 is proposed. Aras will have the opportunity to submit evidence and arguments in response to this

<sup>13</sup> Section 503(b)(2)(C) provides for forfeitures up to $10,000 for each violation in cases not covered by subparagraph (A) or (B), which address forfeitures for violations by licensees and common carriers, among others. See 47 U.S.C. § 503(b). In accordance with the inflation adjustment requirements contained in the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996, Pub. L. 104-134, Sec. 31001, 110 Stat. 1321, the Commission implemented an increase of the maximum statutory forfeiture under section 503(b)(2)(C) to $11,000. See 47 C.F.R. § 1.80(b)(3); Amendment of Section 1.80 of the Commission’s Rules and Adjustment of Forfeiture Maxima to Reflect Inflation, 15 FCC Rcd 18221 (2000); see also Amendment of Section 1.80(b) of the Commission’s Rules and Adjustment of Forfeiture Maxima to Reflect Inflation, 19 FCC Rcd 10945 (2004) (this recent amendment of section 1.80(b) to reflect inflation left the forfeiture maximum for this type of violator at $11,000).

<sup>15</sup> See, e.g., complaint dated February 28, 2007 from Warren Davis (stating that an unsolicited junk fax was received on February 27, 2007 offering to buy out his business and noting that there is no established business relationship with Aras). The complainant involved in this action is listed in the Appendix below.

<sup>16</sup> See 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(4); 47 C.F.R. § 64.1200(f)(13) (definition previously at § 64.1200(f)(10)).

NAL to show that no forfeiture should be imposed or that some lesser amount should be assessed.<sup>18</sup>
